QUICKSTART INDOOR TENNIS LESSONS

Other sports programs don't make kids play on adult fields with adult equipment and now neither does tennis! After decades of refining introductory tennis lessons the USTA has developed QuickStart and uses this format for sanctioned 12 and under tournaments. Children play on an appropriate sized court for their age and skill level with balls that bounce lower and move through the air more slowly than "adult" tennis balls. With this method kids are able to sustain a rally the very first class, play games and start having fun with tennis right away. Children should have an appropriately sized youth racquet. For ages 6 and under a racket should be 19-21 inches, 7-8 years 21-23 inches, 9-10 years 23-25 inches and 11-12 years 25-27 inches. Some racquets will be available for use on the first class. Chip Fazio, a USPTA certified Recreational Coach loves teaching tennis to kids and adults. If you have any questions about racquet sizing or the class, please contact him at (313) 670-3277.
